MODERN PILGRIMS:

SHOWING THE IMPROVEMENTS IN TRAVEL, AND THE NEWEST METHODS OF REACHING THE CELESTIAL CITY.

By George wood.

Author of "Peter Schiemini in America."

In two vols. Itmo. Price $ 75.

The idea of this work was suggested to the author by the inimitable "Celestial Railroad" of Hawthorne. But in the application of the idea to the religious societies of modern time the author is indebted to no one. It is a continuous store of the Pilgrimage of same cultivated and plously disposed people in which they viri in turn various cities, easiles and hotels, representing the leading religious denominations. But no description can do the work justice. It is fail of trenchant satire upon life, manners and opinions; and at the same time 1, has much of pathos which cannot but swaken sympathy.

This work will make a sensition in the religious world. It is proper to edd that the author takes the same standpoint with honest John Bunyan.

Re L L I E O F T R U R O.

"It is an earnest and truthful story of progressive childhood under all its varied influences of circumstance, association, and opinion. There is no intricacy of p.ot, or marvelous advecture, in the tale; yet it preserves a continued interest throughou; and by its simple charm the reader is basenishy beguined into the sousideration of important Christian truths and high moral principles. Such teachings, through the page of fiction, cannot be too highly praised. The young beroine of this book is preserted in the charming character of an artiles, happy child; and as it is said there are no children nowa-days—only precoclous men and women—this graphic portrait of one of the old times race of juveniles is the more refreshing. Little Nellies is deliantful in her innocant gayery and unforced nature; impulsive, arrient, and confiding, ber heart instinctively opens to the hand of affection, from which the good seed is existered which afterware beam its appropriate fruit in her life. The other characters are bappily delineated, each preserving its peculiar individuality. Life, in its daily routine of action, is unfolded on the page. The country, polished man of the world is seen, over clothed in the polituress of his caste. The warm-hearted, eccentric philanth repist figures humorously with his odditoes; and the gentie, Christian paster, piaced in contradistinction with the thundering Bonneigns of the pulpit, succeeds in making manifest his quiet power."
